

Henderson Machinery Moving Inc. (HMMI)

is unique among Southern Ontario's industrial moving firms. With an outstanding track record and over a half century of service, it continues to provide all industries in Canada with on time and on budget results. Our success is due to a solid foundation of experienced and knowledgeable staff, built on the shoulders of skilled tradesmen. Through resources and partnerships HMMI provides you with a complete logistic and installation solution.

History

The HMMI tradition began over 50 years ago with the business concept dated back to the early 1950's. It was forged by the late Gerald Henderson and has been sustained through to the 3rd generation of Henderson family members. Although the company boasted a different name in its infancy it was the first union rigging machinery moving outfit operating in Ontario.

Philosophy

HMMI is committed to providing a win-win situation for all parties involved in a project. We believe that there are many ways to complete a job but few that achieve the desired result properly. We are committed to unearthing the safest and most efficient methods and are focused on providing superior customer service for sustainable relationships in the future.
